

MEANING AND PURPOSE

Which meanings are really powerful for you? Which ideas do you give power to? We attribute power to a thought and so a meaning is born into the world. It is born, surrounded by caring hands, protected by whispers of affection and the silent expectation of those waiting for the 'frame of reference' to blossom.

NOTHING I SEE IN THIS ROOM
[ON THIS STREET, FROM THIS WINDOW, IN THIS PLACE]
MEANS ANYTHING.

The meanings are all the thoughts offered to the ego, automatically gaining a stamp of 'experience' and transforming everything around us into its image and likeness. Of course... it, the ego, becomes the father of our creation.

The one idea to which we hardly devote any power - and which brings the only thought capable of silencing the ego - is 'I am as God created me'. This thought disables, incapacitates, makes impossible, disqualifies, deauthorises, delegitimises, disempowers the ego as our guide here and now, in this World of My God.

To be as God created me is to abolish the 'frame of reference', to remove the ego's stamp from the world. It is to remove the ego's stamp from my creation. It is mine and therefore it is God's. And my creation has only one Purpose. And my Purpose is to Be.

I offer my mind, my world, to the Holy Spirit so that, united with our one Lord, our Creator, we can fulfil our Function here with Joy. Salvation comes from my one Self. Its Thoughts are mine to use (L-pI.96.9:2).
