

EXPERIENCE

What insanity led us to believe the most absurd thought we believe? What insanity mocked Creation and laughed at God? We know that by denying our true Identity, we maintain the belief in separation, but what signpost did we follow along this path of forgetfulness? And even more... what was the other signpost that we ignored?

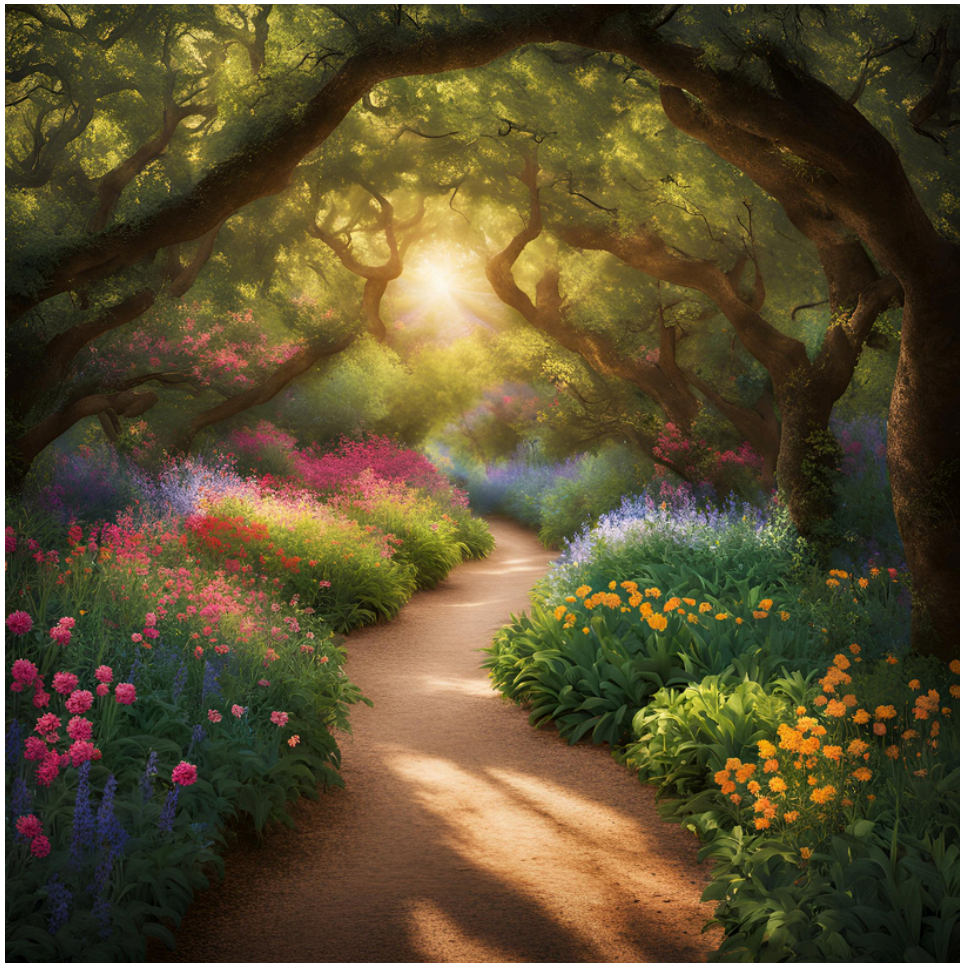

The world began in error and will end in the reflection of its own holiness (L-pl.191.10:2).

The world began with the belief in separation and will end in the holy reflection of that same belief. And we, the sleeping Son, are the Saviour of this world. How? How can the sleeping one save the world? By waking up. How can such a deeply insane belief be holy? By disidentifying. Awake, we will disidentify, and thus everything will be blessed by the Eyes of Christ.

We have lived for years practising separation in each of our actions through a mind that does not witness our true Identity. Among so many invented thoughts, the Son of God is a faint memory, erased, forgotten, identified and trapped in the many perceptions of this world we invented just to experience apart from God. There is nothing apart from God, and that is why we fall asleep in our individualities. Only the dream, the illusion, would bring us the experience of being apart from Him.

In Unity with God, there is the Son and the Holy Spirit. They are here, they have always been here, because there is no possibility of them not being here, once (and really only once) the Son is eternal. They are all within us, Who Are One. The Wholeness of the Son is in the Remembrance of God... and only through His Testimonies will we recognise ourselves for Who We Truly Are. How then will we hear the only Word that truly speaks of Itself? By following the sign with letters written in bold: TRUTH. The Holy Spirit is the One who shows us the way. Allow Him to unite with the Son, and Divine Completeness will be immediately achieved. Believe that every experience is holy because there is nothing but Holiness. Believe that through what we experience, our true face will be revealed. Allow the awakening.

EXERCISE

May every experience be holy.
May each one be seen only through the Eyes of the holy Son, through the Eyes of Christ.
May each experience be experienced along the path offered by the Holy Spirit, by the One Who knows our only Identity.
