

LET GO OF THE WEAPONS OF THE MIND AND ALLOW THE TRUTH TO COME IN PEACE

In what form, right now, does your insanity reside? What is the belief that, right now, supports your entire line of thought? What is the certainty that drives you? Is it the Certainty that, whatever form your insanity takes, it resides only in your mind? Is it the Certainty that a single mistaken belief is enough to take you away from what truly matters? Is it the Certainty that Christ is, at this Very Instant, whispering in your heart: 'I am here'?

IN MY DEFENSELESSNESS MY SAFETY LIES.

Whatever this world looks like to you now, it only reflects the sense of threat that the deluded mind still insists on perceiving. The way you see the world right now reveals the degree of your defensiveness - against God's Peace, or... against everything you believe to be beyond yourself. Attack, defence are reasonable, fair and even noble in the name of a great confusion chosen as reality.

Practice recognising that we don't need defences because we are unassailable, because we will no longer legitimise any thought, desire or dream in which any attack has any meaning. What defence would those who have chosen Love as their sole Purpose need?
